

http://mis.ucd.ie visitor view

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD BUSINESS SCHOOLS

University College Dublin
An Coláiste Oileáin, Baile Átha Cliath

small text normal text large text

home news cito cmss staff wiki

you are here: home

you are not logged in log in join

Department of Management Information Systems

Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

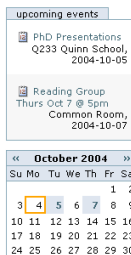

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Graduate) and Quinn (Undergraduate) Business Schools, this business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organisational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

1. Management Science and Systems
2. Information Technology and Organisation

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

10/02/2005

An instance of a Zope/Plone CME

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Additional Requirements ✓ full index search for ease of use ✓ access control levels by role by group ✓ content workflow management create review approve publish aged and time boxed ✓ platform independence Windows 9x, ME, NT, 2K, XP OS X Linux ✓ browser independence IE 5, 5.5, 6 and above Netscape 4.7, 7 and above Mozilla 1 and above Opera 7 and above Konqueror ✓ Lynx | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ and wish lists discussions bulletin boards newsgroups RSS feeds WikiWiki ✓ email lists capture management use of sandboxed webs for showcases projects researchers students teaching ✓ self subscription academic staff students alumni corporate partners interfaculty |
|--|---|

10/02/2005

...CMF = Content Management Framework

- ✓ Plone provides readable URLs
- ✓ Plone is Open Source Software
 - actively developed
 - actively maintained
 - open framework
 - widely used and reviewed
- ✓ Conforms with US govt section 508 disability guidelines
- ✓ Conforms with W3C-WAI web content accessibility guidelines
- ✓ All pages display with valid CSS consistency of display
- ✓ All pages are valid W3C XHTML
- ✓ Plone is mainly administered TTW (Through The Web)
- ✓ Front end managed by Apache for protective proxy
- ✓ cache server
- ✓ redirection to other webs
- ✓ Role based permissions
- ✓ ease of management of groups and individuals

- ✓ Apache is worlds leading web server
- ✓ Apache is Open Source Software (ditto benefits)
- ✓ Plone File/Folder style organisation

10/02/2005

User Roles

- Site Administrator (System Administrator)
- Site Content Manager (CITO, CMMS, Front Page)
- Site Developer (all department members)
- Registered Guests (unrestricted)
- Anonymous visitor (anyone who browses the site)

10/02/2005

Registering and logging in

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD BUSINESS SCHOOLS

University College Dublin
An Coláiste Oilibéil, Baile Átha Cliath

small text normal text large text

search

home news cito cmss staff wiki

you are here: home

you are not logged in | log in | join

Department of Management Information Systems

Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

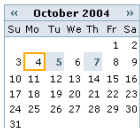

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Graduate) and Quinn (Undergraduate) Business Schools, this business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organisational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

1. Management Science and Systems
2. Information Technology and Organisation

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

10/02/2005

log in for registered member view

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD BUSINESS SCHOOLS

University College Dublin
An Coláiste Oilibéil, Baile Átha Cliath

small text normal text large text

search

home news cito cmss staff wiki

aldo | my folder | my preferences | undo | log out

you are here: home

Department of Management Information Systems

Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

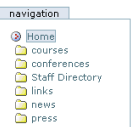

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Graduate) and Quinn (Undergraduate) Business Schools, this business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organisational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

1. Management Science and Systems
2. Information Technology and Organisation

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

10/02/2005

what's different?

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD Business Schools

Department of Management Information Systems
Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Undergraduate) and Quin (Undergraduate) Business Schools, the business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organizational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

1. Management Science and Systems
2. Information, Technology and Organization.

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD Business Schools

Department of Management Information Systems
Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Undergraduate) and Quin (Undergraduate) Business Schools, the business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organizational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

Management Science and Systems
Information, Technology and Organization.

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

10/02/2005

You get a folder you can do things in!

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD Business Schools

Department of Management Information Systems
Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Undergraduate) and Quin (Undergraduate) Business Schools, the business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organizational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

1. Management Science and Systems
2. Information, Technology and Organization.

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

Department of Management Information Systems
UCD Business Schools

Department of Management Information Systems
Welcome to the Management Information Systems Department within the Faculty of Commerce at University College Dublin.

The Department of Management Information Systems (MIS) was established in 1979 and is based within the Michael Smurfit (Undergraduate) and Quin (Undergraduate) Business Schools, the business focus is reflected in the research interests of its academic staff.

The department encompasses a wide cross-section of research interests and teaches a broad portfolio of subjects covering Information Systems (IS), Electronic Commerce / Business, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Social and Organizational aspects of IS / ICT, Operations Research, Management Science and Systems Science.

Consequently, the department is well positioned to provide support for PhDs that have an applied inter-disciplinary orientation. The research activities of members of the department are organized within two centres, which reflect a dual thematic focus:

Management Science and Systems
Information, Technology and Organization.

Members draw heavily on their active research involvement while teaching postgraduate programmes at UCD's Smurfit Graduate School of Business. Postgraduate programmes offered by the Department of Management Information Systems include:

10/02/2005

add, edit, share, meta-data, state

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar containing `http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/folder_contents`. The page title is "aldo's Home". The interface includes a navigation menu on the left, a calendar for October 2004, and a main content area with a table of items. Annotations include red circles around the address bar, the breadcrumb "you are here: home > members > aldo's home", the "contents" tab, the "add new item" button, and the navigation menu. A red box highlights the table of items.

<input type="checkbox"/>	title	size	modified	state	order
<input type="checkbox"/>	Home page for aldo	1 kb	2004-07-29 11:05:33	visible	▲ ▼
<input type="checkbox"/>	Do you use Wiki?		2004-09-27 12:00:27	visible	▲ ▼
<input type="checkbox"/>	test	1 kb	2004-08-31 17:37:02	visible	▲ ▼
<input type="checkbox"/>	test		2004-08-31 17:49:21	visible	▲ ▼
<input type="checkbox"/>	First Year Registration and Orientation	1 kb	2004-09-01 09:36:02	published	▲ ▼

10/02/2005

You add "objects"

The screenshot is identical to the previous one, but with a callout box on the right side. The callout box contains a list of object types that can be added to the home page.

- You can add
 - events
 - web pages
 - wikis
 - upload files
 - news items
 - bibliography references (et al)
 - courses
 - lots of others

10/02/2005

Be aware of the structure of the URLs

• Understand and use urls in the site and in your documents

URL + command

- http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/index_html/document_edit_form
- http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/index_html/document_view
- http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/index_html/metadata_edit_form
- http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/index_html/folder_localrole_form
- http://mis.ucd.ie/Members/aldo/folder_contents

Relative URLs

http://mis.ucd.ie/staff/aldo/index_html
is same as "/staff/aldo/index_html"

10/02/2005

Permissions

private → only visible to creators and administrators visible → visible for all members but not visitors

pending → edit and properties tabs only visible for administrators

published → visible for everyone

10/02/2005

Organisation of the site

10/02/2005

Where to go if you get stuck

<http://mis.ucd.ie/wiki>

10/02/2005